INSURANCE BUSINESS

YOUR DUTY OF DISCLOSURE

Your insurance is based upon the information provided to the insurance company and you must ensure that all such information is complete and accurate and that any facts that may influence the insurer’s decision to accept and pay a valid claim and what terms are applied, must be disclosed. Failure to disclose material information may invalidate your insurance and could mean that part, or all, of a claim may not be paid.

CONSUMERS: You must take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the insurer. This means that all the answers you give and the statements you make as part of your insurance application, should be honest and accurate. If you deliberately or carelessly misinform the insurers, this could mean that part or all of a claim may not be paid.

COMMERCIAL CUSTOMERS: If the insurance is arranged wholly or mainly for purposes related to your trade, business or profession you have a duty to disclose all material facts whether or not the insurer asks for specific information. This duty applies throughout the life of your policy, and when you renew your insurance. Material facts are any facts which may influence the insurer’s decision to accept.

These include:	Total Loss Cover

These products are underwritten by a number of companies and a list of products and insurers is available on request. You will not receive advice or a recommendation from us on these. We may ask some questions to narrow down the selection of products in respect of which we will provide you with details. You will then need to make your own decision on whether to proceed with purchasing any of them.

HOW TO CANCEL

You may have a statutory right to cancel your insurance policy within a short period. Please refer to your policy summary or your policy document for further details. If you cancel you will receive a pro rata refund of premium from the insurer. Insurers are also entitled to make an administrative charge.
